

SoulShift - Educational Q&A Platform

General Questions

Practice Questions

Q1. Which structure in the plant regulates the opening and closing of stomata?

- A. Guard cells
- B. Xylem vessels
- C. Phloem fibers
- D. Mesophyll cells

Solution: Guard cells surround the stomata and control their opening and closing, regulating gas exchange and transpiration.

